

W-L Grapplers Face Warriors

Wakefield's wrestling team invades Washington-Lee High School today in a 6:30 p.m. match that precedes the Generals-George Washington basketball game.

In the first meeting the two maiden year mat teams had this year the Generals nosed out the Warriors 26-19 in a hotly disputed contest and tonight's affair figures to be equally thrilling.

Washington-Lee is anxious to nail down Arlington County supremacy by giving the Warriors another bump while Coach Vic Blue's lads are anxious to pull an upset over the high-riding Generals, who have gone undefeated while bringing home five victories.

Both squads are in top condition and are probably on a fine psychological edge for this feature encounter. Coach Norman Propst is naturally anxious to keep his undefeated status while the Warriors are licking their chops over this chance to upset the Generals' applecart after getting knocked-off in the January tussle with Washington-Lee.

Most plans are complete for this evening's contest but several entries are not going to be revealed until match time.

In the curtain-lifting 103-pound tangle Washington-Lee's Lee Betts faces either Howard Sutton or Dave Evans from Wakefield.

Mike Lowe of the Generals is slated to challenge Doug Miller or Allan Coe from Wakefield in the 112-pound attraction.

Russ Norman, latest addition to the Generals' squad, is going on the mat against Ronnie Heiniman from Wakefield in the 120-pound division.

Bill Player of Washington-Lee grapples with either Joe Crunkilton or Chuck Warner in the 127-pound class. Warner will be inserted in the 133-pound event if he isn't used against Player.

Washington-Lee's Dusty Silver will lock horns with Roy Wagner in the 133-pound square-off if Warner doesn't leave the 127-pound chores to Crunkilton.

Will Heron of the Generals is comparing wits with Wakefield's Jerry Hand in the 138-pound tilt.

Wakefield's Steve Hall is going against the Generals' Phil Gilbert in the 165 class while Jim McIntosh opposes Washington-Lee's Jim Wood in the 175-pound battle.

In the feature heavyweight attraction the Generals' Jerry Whitehouse and Wakefield's Porky Pennell will be turned loose.
